

December 2007

WHAT'S HOT

Alchemy Properties Continues Its Trend Of Unique Signature Façades

Manhattan-based developer Alchemy Properties is pleased to announce the groundbreaking of its newest luxury residential building, Hudson Hill Condominium, located at 462 West 58th St., between Ninth and Tenth avenues at the nexus of Columbus Circle West and the Time Warner Center.

Designed by FXFowle Architects and named after its prime location near the Hudson River, Hudson Hills Condominium's will boast a unique trespa façade, a high-quality panel system with an attractive redwood design. The panels are designed to create a comfortable and healthy indoor environment by reflecting light while ensuring a weatherproof and well-insulated building.

When completed, Hudson Hill Condominium will contain 67 one-, two-, and three-bedroom residences ranging in size from 760 sq ft to 3,253 sq ft.

All residences will feature luxury finishes including Brazilian cherry floors and doors and double-glazed Wausau windows allowing for great views and light. Kitchens will feature sleek quartz countertops, high-end Poggenpohl cabinetry, and a premier Viking appliance package including a Viking wine cooler. Luxuriant master baths will feature limestone and marble, radiant floor heating, Kohler fixtures, wall-mounted vanities, and Steamist steam showers for units with separate shower stalls.